

CORPORATE PROFILE

PROMISES MADE. PROMISES KEPT.

At Chandak Group, we believe every home holds the promise of a new beginning. A beginning of a new life filled with exciting possibilities. We also take pride in the fact that almost all of our projects have been delivered on schedule, lending to our tagline – Promises Made. Promises Kept. The Chandak Group's logo, designed as a multi-layered pyramid, underlines these core promises.

The structure of pyramids, one of the oldest and strongest forms of construction, has withstood the test of time for thousands of years, as manifested in the iconic historic monuments. Not only do they represent an ideal integration of groundbreaking art with cutting-edge technology, the pyramids also symbolize a greater consciousness of strength and energy, and of the self with its soul.

These principles resonate with Chandak Group's philosophy of creating an enlightened future for everyone within our world, and beyond. Each layer of the Chandak Group's logo thus serves a reminder to uphold promises made to our customers, vendors, bankers, partners, contractors, employees and the society at large.

That is exactly why every construction we undertake combines the best of art and science. Every structure is built on foundations as strong as the pyramids. Every project lives up to the promise of a better life. Because fulfilling promises is at the heart of everything Chandak Group does.

THE PROMISE OF

TO DELIVER THE BEST.

We are a team of highly qualified and passionate individuals with a common goal of surpassing expectations and benchmarks with every project. In the process, we constantly add to our capabilities and discover new methods of pushing the boundaries of construction. Each one of our projects is a result of numerous hours of planning and the meticulous application of the latest construction techniques. Our quality and dedication are visible in the long list of completed projects amidst Mumbai's changing skyline that we have successfully completed over 38 years of experience.

At Chandak Group, however, we do not rest on our laurels. Instead, we believe in constant growth and self-development that allows us to raise the bar in quality, design, technology and customer service, every single time.

BUILDING RELATIONSHIPS

BEYOND BUSINESS.

Insights show that most Indians purchase just one home in the course of their lifetime. This is reason enough for us to make the cycle of purchasing their dream home an eventful and positive experience. Our courteous sales and CRM teams manage each client through the phases of home purchasing in a warm and cordial way.

Unwavering quality, trustworthiness and straightforwardness are values embedded within our business guidelines that makes every interaction not only profitable, but also ethical and profoundly satisfying.

We always remember that we are building connections just as much as we are developing homes.
